CLEARs THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, poslam, the new skin remedy, has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset. In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show that an overnight application of poslam, followed by the use of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2.00 package are obtainable in Richmond at Tragle's and other leading drug stores.

Samples for experimental purposes may be had by writing to the Emergency Laboratories, 82 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City.

The wife of a famous cartoonist writes us that the best way to clean diamonds and other precious stones is to "soak them over night in a bowlful of Ivory Soap and water. Shavings of the soap dropped into warm water are best. In the morning, rinse them thoroughly with hot water, and behold! they are as bright as when received from the jewelers."

DATE IS SET.

Arguments on Local Option Contest Will Be Heard February 22.

LYNCHBURG, Va., February 9.—It was stated to-day that counsel in the contest of the local option election have agreed upon February 22 as the day for the argument of this case, which will be heard by Judge Christian in the Corporation Court.

It is understood that Judge Christian had notified the counsel that any day of the week of February 22 would be suitable for him, and when the agreement was reached, it was decided to take up the argument on the day indicated Judge Christian could not then be located to ascertain if the day was still agreeable to him. There was hardly a doubt but the argument will take place on this date.

NO MEDICINE
But a Change of Food Gave Relief.

Many persons are learning that drugs are not the thing to rub down worn-out nerves, but proper food is required.

There is a certain element in the cereals, wheat, barley, etc., which is grown there by nature for food to brain and nerves. This is the phosphate of potash, of which Grape-Nuts food contains a large proportion.

In making this food all the food elements in the cereals, wheat and barley, are retained. That is why so many heretofore nervous and run down people find in Grape-Nuts a true nerve and brain food.

It can be seen that Grape-Nuts food has done much for me as a nerve renewer, writes a Wis. bride.

"A few years ago, before my marriage, I was a bookkeeper in a large firm. I became so nervous toward the end of each week that it seemed I must give up my position, which I could not afford to do.

"Mother purchased some Grape-Nuts, and we found it not only delicious, but I noticed from day to day that I was improving, until I finally realized I was not nervous any more.

"I have recommended it to friends as a brain and nerve food, never having found it equal to Grape-Nuts, as it saved me from a nervous collapse, and enabled me to retain my position."

CHARLOTTE MAN SHOT TO DEATH

Business Differences End in Murder in Busiest Part of City.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., February 9.—Standing within an arm's length of his victim, in a busy thoroughfare in full view of hundreds of people, William H. Biggers shot and killed J. Green Hood this morning and then calmly surrendered to the first policeman that arrived at the scene of the tragedy.

Biggers met Hood in front of the Central Hotel, fifty feet from the public square, and the men engaged in conversation. There was apparently no quarrel, and the first intimation to bystanders that anything was wrong was when Hood extended his hands and begged Biggers not to shoot him.

Almost simultaneously Biggers drew a pistol and with his left hand, his right arm having been cut off in a railroad accident, began firing. The first shot went wild, passing through the hotel bus within a few inches of the driver's head and shattering a big plate-glass in the window of a bank. The second and third and fourth shots took effect, and Hood fell to the sidewalk. Biggers then deliberately leaned over his prostrate victim and fired a fifth time, the shot plowing through his head.

Then Biggers walked up to the nearest policeman and handed over his pistol, stating that Hood had been robbing his wife and child for years, and now the job was done.

Result of Long Feud.
The feud between the two men dates back several years. Biggers had invested money in a dry-goods enterprise started by Hood and others, and when the firm failed, he charged that there had been irregular dealings. In the past few days the strained relations had become acute by reason of a note for $2,000 held by Hood against Biggers, an outgrowth of this deal.

Biggers had been prominently identified with several business enterprises, and several years ago was shot by a brother-in-law at Davidson, this country, because of business differences.

Shortly after the failure of his last business enterprise here, he attempted to cut his throat, but was prevented. He is survived by a widow and several grown children. Biggers is a farmer and horsestrader of some means, and has always been regarded as a good citizen. He has a wife and several children.

Trouble for Contractor.
LYNCHBURG, Va., February 9.—The contractor on the Southern tunnel through the Piedmont, here is having a world of trouble on account of water in the southern approach to the tunnel. A big compressed air pump and a big hand pump cannot keep the water down, and more than a foot of water covered the tracks used by the dinky trains in removing stone and earth from the tunnel. Several good sized streams are flowing out of both ends of the tunnel, and the lower approach the work is in such a shape that it cannot be drained for the present. This makes the pumps a necessity. The work is being pushed twenty-four hours a day and nearly 300 men are engaged on the contract.

CHILD LABOR BILL IS BADLY TANGLED

With Many Amendments to Amendments It Gets Through Second Reading.

RALEIGH, N. C., February 9.—As amended, with amendments to amendments, the committee substitute for the child labor bill was passed on second reading by the House in such shape that its own mother would never recognize it anywhere. Then the rather tumultuous lower branch hesitated to let it go through on third reading, and it was moved successfully by Representative Cox, of Anson, to print it as it stands and make it a special order for next Tuesday, February 16.

Untangled as best it may be, the much manipulated measure now on the calendar of bills for third reading prohibits night work in mills by women and girls together and by boys under sixteen, provides for a system of factory inspection by the Department of Labor and Printing, reduces the hours of work of women and children from sixty-six to sixty-three a week, and prohibits children under thirteen from working as helpers to older employees, the night work section to go into effect January 1, 1910.

The entire time of the House after the morning hour was occupied with the maneuvering and debating of this bill. The discussion was warm and exciting, politics getting in edgewise toward the close. Mr. Murphy, of Oxford, declaring that Leader Harshaw, in opposing the further legislation had about-faced from the minority, and Mr. Harshaw replying that there was no about-facing in it.

The House set the State fish bill for a special order Friday.

The Senate passed the Currie House bill to regulate the registration and sale of concentrated feeding stuffs, with an amendment that it do not apply to stock now on hands of dealers.

Senator Barringer's bill to make mileage good on trains without being exchanged for tickets came from the Committee on Railroads with a majority report unfavorable and notice of a minority report later to be signed by Senators Barham, Ormond and Fry.

Minority Leader Harshaw introduced in the House a bill for the election of justices of the peace by the voters of each township and prohibiting their appointment by the Legislature.

Confidence in Dr. Smith.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., February 9.—At a meeting of Leonidas Polk Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, on February 2 Dr. C. Alphonso Smith read his published letter to Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, president of the Richmond Chapter, U. D. C., in response to her strictures upon the action of the committee which made the award of a prize offered by the Daughters of the Confederacy for the best historic essay on the South and her people.

In acknowledgment of Dr. Smith's statement, the following minute was made:

"Leonidas Polk Chapter, U. D. C. of Chapel Hill, N. C., desires to express its highest regard for Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, and to thank him for his prompt and voluntary explanation of the reasons which led the committee to award the prize to the paper presented by Miss Boyson, of Minnesota, and to assure Dr. Smith of its undisturbed confidence in his loyalty to Southern traditions and in his devotion to the fame of her greatest soldier and citizen."

Committee Returns.
SPENCER, N. C., February 9.—The committee representing the machinists and other labor organization, which has been in Washington for the past week in conference with the Southern Railway officials relative to the wage scale, returned yesterday. The request was nothing for publication. It is said, however, that the employees will get all they are asking of the company except the number of hours they are to be employed. The matter will be definitely decided at an early date.

Want Charter Changed.
SPENCER, N. C., February 9.—A petition is being widely circulated in Spencer asking the present General Assembly to amend the charter of the Spencer Graded School so that the School Board will hereafter be elected by the Board of Aldermen instead of by the voters of the town. The petition was signed by the chairman of the present board, and it seems certain that the amendment will be made.

Line Is Assured.
HIGH POINT, N. C., February 9.—At last it seems that this city is to have an electric railway and interurban lines. Coler & Company, who bought the interests of Vanbrunt and his associates, had their counsel before the board to-night and submitted a contract, which was unanimously indorsed. It insures cars in this city within a year, and an interurban line in operation in two years. It also fixes the price of travel. In connection, a gas plant will be installed, and a company agrees not to sell electric lights in competition with the city, which owns its own plant.
